26th Music Biennale Zagreb 2011
International festival of contemporary music

A half-century anniversary - 50 years
of Music Biennale Zagreb

ZAGREB, CROATIA, 7 - 17 April 2011

The International Society for Contemporary Music (ISCM) is an important international network of members from around fifty countries, devoted to the promotion and presentation of contemporary music - the music of our time. ISCM has had a distinguished history. From its foundation in Salzburg in 1922, the Society's receptiveness to aesthetic and stylistic diversity has been their distinguishing characteristic. Today, more than ever with the incredible diversity which exists in contemporary musical expression around the world, this ideal is still strongly supported by ISCM members.

ISCM WORLD NEW MUSIC DAYS 2011

› THEME: MIRABILIA MEMORABILIA

With year 2011, New music enters into its ninth decade of slow, but sure "conquest" of new areas and new countries, and marks 90 years of gaining new friends and admirers. Although it "grew-up" and got considerably older in these 90 years, we still experience it as young and challenging, new and fresh, worthy of the effort we make in trying to make it an integral part of human activities, needs and life, worthy of the faith we have in it, all the time helping it to "grow" even more...

In 2011, we will also celebrate 50 years of the Music Biennale Zagreb, an International festival of contemporary music, one of the oldest festivals of this kind in Europe and the world...

We would like to invite our colleagues and friends of New music, members of ISCM and participants of MBZ, composers and musicians to join us in the celebration of these anniversaries and write new compositions to mark these occasions, for 2011 WMD...

We would like to invite composers to write compositions for somewhat odd ensembles and instruments, encompassing ancient, typical Croatian folk instruments, and newest technological possibilities... We believe that this will open the way for integrating New music into the "ordinary" musical life of our social environment, and provide our Association with one of the best presents our profession can have: good music...

* Tamboura (tamburitza) and tamburitza music are an integral part of Croatian music culture. Developed directly from the roots of folk music, tamboura is today an acknowledged orchestral instrument used for playing even the most contemporary music pieces, and is included in the curricula of all music schools and academies. Tamboura is a string instrument, and as such is similar to other string instruments belonging to the same family of instruments: their origin being a Persian instrument composed of a long neck and pear-shaped body, dating back 4000 years ago. It is a long-necked lute. Up until the half of the 19th century, tamboura was played as a solo instrument. Her sound and shape resembles most to that of a mandolin or balalaika. The usage of tamboura in various kinds of music is especially interesting (folk, popular, classic, jazz, contemporary music, film scores, and many other). As a string instrument played with a plectrum, tamboura is a recognizable instrument throughout the world, especially in the countries populated by larger groups of Croatian immigrants, (America, Canada, Australia, and many European countries). In the second half of the 19th century, the first literature dedicated to tamboura came to life. Numerous distinguished composers compose for tamboura orchestras. Various types of tamboura tuning systems are used in practice, the most common and widespread being the so called, Fourth E tuning system. The smallest tamboura is called bisernica. The basic four- part orchestration in tamboura orchestra is the first and second bas-prim or brač, e-brač and tamboura čelo (four-string tamboura). Bass line consists of bugarija and berda.
